

SLER Statement (adapted from Rusty Toque issue 7, Nov. 2014)

SLER

The sler drawings are drawn from a found archive of self-given names. Each name reckons with the English language, though in a loose, and frequently abusive manner. Rendered in cursive and flooded with waterborne pigments, these names are inclined to find their own course.